

HEAD, DEPARTMENT OF PHARMACOLOGY
AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA
ROY J. AND LUCILLE A. CARVER COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

The Carver College of Medicine at The University of Iowa seeks candidates for the position of Head, Department of Pharmacology. The Carver College of Medicine is part of a major research university and ranks 12th among public medical schools in National Institutes of Health funding. The College and the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics are equal partners in UI Health Care. The hospital is one of the largest university-owned teaching hospitals in the United States and is adjacent to the Iowa City Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center. The Department of Pharmacology has a distinguished research and teaching faculty and a nationally recognized research program.

The head of the department is the spokesperson for the faculty and represents the department in interactions with the college, as well as nationally. Responsibilities include faculty recruitment and appointments; educational and research programs; fiscal planning and management; and short term and long term strategic planning. In addition, the head is a member of the Medical Council, which provides input to the Dean, CCOM.

Candidates must have previous records consistent with appointment as a tenured professor. This includes a PhD or MD degree or equivalent and an outstanding record of accomplishments in teaching, research, and service. The successful candidate should have the demonstrated capacity to foster an environment in which excellence in teaching, research and scholarship can flourish, as well as experience and interest in developing and leading research programs. Desirable attributes include a record of innovative and effective administrative and fiscal leadership, a record of excellent interpersonal skills, demonstrated experience promoting a diverse workforce, and positive interactions with students, staff and faculty. An interest in interdisciplinary research programs is advantageous. In addition, a preference for expertise in either Neurobiology or Cancer Biology is highly desirable. Dr. Paul Rothman, Dean, CCOM, has made this a top priority recruitment. Accordingly, ample resources have been allocated to this position.

The University of Iowa is located in Iowa City, a vibrant community located in the rolling hills of Southeastern Iowa. The community offers excellent schools, quality entertainment, literary, musical and cultural opportunities and Big 10 sporting events.

The search committee will accept nominations and applications until the position is filled. Nominations should include a brief statement of the attributes and qualities of the individual that make him or her ideally suited for this position, a curriculum vitae, and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of three references.
